

How to Build Winning Team Chemistry

...and Keep it!

In the fall of 2016, the Chicago Cubs captured the nation's attention by winning the World Series for the first time in 108 years! While the team had good talent, many attribute their winning edge to the team coach, Joe Maddon and his ability to build and sustain team chemistry. Is there a way we can build winning team chemistry in a way that is repeatable and predictable? Yes, there is!

In this interactive, 3-hour workshop we will:

- Learn the four key Criteria needed to “build a fire” under your team.
- Understand what it takes to establish and maintain laser-beam focus.
- Identify the four key criteria that produce a “high-trust” team.
- Discover what it takes to maintain tenacious team accountability
